

3SIXTY5®

We are so blessed to have such an innovative and forward thinking company. I am equally as excited about the new vitamins – 3SIXTY5® -available the end of this month, as I am the skin care line -Glimpse® - coming to us in the fall.

I wanted to share some facts with you on both new lines. Because of the many benefits of the mangosteen, our founder, Joe Morton, had the vision from the beginning to share these beneficial properties in many ways. All products produced by XANGO® are for nourishment, health and well-being.

After spending the last 10 years myself in the wellness industry, I have researched many companies and been the guinea pig for many products. I have been asked numerous times over the years for vitamin & skin care recommendations. Because I am so picky when it comes to finding quality products, it has been difficult for me to strongly recommend products to others. I have made recommendations followed with an explanation of why I am not 100% sold on them. I, at the moment, do not have a better recommendation based on the following reasons...

I have learned things about the companies, the ingredients and the harm things can do us when we are uneducated on what we put in on or our bodies.... This is why I am so excited.

The pieces of the puzzle that were missing from the companies I researched have all come together:

1. Quality ingredients that make a difference (not just fillers or harmful chemicals).
2. A company with integrity that only does things 1st rate.
3. A production process that is green & pure.
