Dr. Armando V. DeGuzman practiced as a general surgeon for thirty-two years. During his distinguished career he served as Chief of Surgery at Southeast Arizona Medical Center. Over 16 years ago Dr. DeGuzman was involved in a serious cycling accident that prevented him from working for a period of five months. At this point in his career he was in a solo practice and still had all of his overhead and expenses needing to be paid. He realized that he was a highly paid professional that had educated himself to zero leverage. He was merely trading time for dollars. For this very reason he became enamored with the concept of residual income and thus began his search for the perfect MLM Company. Join Dr. DeGuzman as he shares how he began his VOYAGE OF HEALTH & WEALTH with XanGo.
